

A Message for Christmas and New Year

We have reached that time of the year when the birth of Christ is celebrated and also the time when we conclude the year . . . for a

The birth of Christ was our Father's expression of love for our salvation therefore gave us peace and hope. Through the years, we have lived this hope believing and expecting the changes and miracles we need for life and desiring them for others.

This time of the year we pause and reflect on all these – Christ Who was born to be God with us and the year's passing which was filled with His inexhaustible and unexpected grace.

As we pause, Gratitude fills our hearts and because of this we again live with faith. Our faith will be expressed in renewed obedience to God and by living a new year with God Who will be with us.

The year ahead may present what seems to be impossible tasks but our pledges of obedience and living the future with God's presence – everything will be possible. The outcome of our future does not rest on our efforts nor our fears but in the power of God and our wholehearted commitment to God.

Merry Christmas and A Happy New Year!

Babes and Nickie